

KETOGENIC DIET GUIDELINES

A Ketogenic Diet is basically a high fat, adequate protein and low carbohydrate diet that makes the body switch from burning sugars/carbohydrates as its main fuel source to burning fats. This reduction of carbs puts your body into a metabolic state called ketosis. Burning fat for energy is both healthy and efficient at providing fuel to run the body. Ketosis doesn't just help you lose weight—it's been proven to help boost brain function, reduce brain fog, reduce inflammation, improve blood sugar and insulin levels, and much more.

There are several versions of the ketogenic diet, including

- Standard Keto Diet: Low carb (5%), moderate protein (20%), high fat (75%)
- Cycling Keto Diet: 5 Standard Keto days, 2 Higher Carb days
- Targeted Keto Diet: allows you to add carbs around workout
- High Protein Diet: Similar to the Standard Keto Diet, but more protein intake: carb (5%), protein (35%), fat (60%)

EATING TIPS FROM DR. SIEGEL

16/8 intermittent fasting involves eating only during an eight-hour window during the day and fasting for the remaining 16 hours. It may support weight loss, improve blood sugar, boost brain function and increase longevity.

- Do Intermittent Fasting 6 days/week (8/16 rule: 8 hours on/16 hours off)

OPTION 1: eat from 7am-3pm (Some exceptions may apply.)

BREAKFAST > around 7-8:30am along with buttered coffee

SNACK > Couple sips of salted orange juice around 10-10:30am

LUNCH/DINNER > around 12-3pm

AFTER 3PM > no solid food (nothing that has to be chewed).

For the rest of the afternoon and evening, only periodic salted orange juice. The only exception to the “no food in evening” rule would be the limited consumption of heated beef collagen bone broth (8-12 ounces). Make sure you take couple sips of salted orange juice before bed.

FASTING from 3pm to 7am

OPTION 2: eat from 12pm-8pm (Some exceptions may apply.)

BREAKFAST > around 12-1:30pm along with buttered coffee

SNACK > Couple sips of salted orange juice around 3-3:30am

LUNCH/DINNER > around 4-7:30pm

AFTER 8PM > no solid food (nothing that has to be chewed).

For the rest of the afternoon and evening, only periodic salted orange juice. The only exception to the “no food in evening” rule would be the limited consumption of heated beef collagen bone broth (8-12 ounces). Make sure you take couple sips of salted orange juice before bed.

FASTING from 8pm to 12 noon (next day)

- Do a 24-hour fast 1 day/every 2 weeks: water—unlimited & bone broth—no more than 8 oz./day (best spread throughout the day)
- Eat breakfast (buttered coffee and limited salted orange juice) within 30 minutes of waking to lower morning stress hormones. Otherwise it will become increasingly difficult to affect your results.
- During the day, go no longer than 1.5-2 hours between meals/snacks to prevent a stress response. This snack can be a couple sips of the salted orange juice and/or bone broth. If needed, take a few extra sips of the salted orange juice and/or bone broth during longer periods between meals.
- No food beyond 2 hours before bed.
- Small carrot salad 1x/day (recipe on the back side)
- All drinks/smoothies should be sipped slowly during and after meals in order to help ensure proper blood sugar regulation.
- Daily Marcos (if you want to track them) should be: about 70% fat, 20% protein, and about 10% carbs.
- If you initially find it difficult to follow the eating schedule, it is better to reduce portion size while maintaining the frequency of eating.

FOODS TO EAT

IN ADDITION TO THE FOODS FROM THE DIET RESOURCES AND RECIPES LISTED ON THE OTHER SIDE, DR. SIEGEL RECOMMENDS THE FOLLOWING:

- Salted orange juice recipe: 8 oz. pulp-free orange juice (i.e., Simply Orange brand) combined with 1/4 tsp. of sea salt; to be sipped occasionally throughout the day (make sure a couple sips are taken before bed). If you experience any acid stomach upset, then add a pinch of baking soda to the orange juice.
- 4 oz. dark roast organic coffee (i.e., Bullet Proof brand from Whole Foods, Fresh Thyme, Meijer) mixed with: 1/2-1 tbsp. organic, unsalted butter from grass-fed cows (i.e., Kerry Gold butter brand); plus 2 oz. organic whole milk or 2 oz. carrageenan-free cream; plus 1/2 tsp expeller pressed virgin coconut oil or MCT oil
- Carrot salad recipe: 2 medium (raw, grated) carrots mixed with: 1 tbsp. expeller pressed virgin coconut oil and 1 tbsp. apple cider vinegar. Add sea salt to taste.
- Grass-fed, organic butter and expeller pressed virgin coconut oil can be added to any food or drink
- Grass-fed, grass-finished beef and lamb (Butcherbox.com is online source of grass-fed, grass-finished meats)
- Wild-caught seafood (avoid farm-raised seafood)
- Vegetables that are fermented for gut health (i.e., sauerkraut, kimchi, natural pickles): several servings/week
- Store-bought applesauce (as long as it doesn't contain ingredients other than apple)
- Beverages: filtered water, sparkling water, kombucha, unsweetened coconut milk, kefir, coconut water, unsweetened tea, and raw milk (from reliable source)
- Coconut aminos (instead of soy sauce/tamari)
- Stevia

FOODS TO AVOID

- Any known or suspected food allergen or sensitivity
- All grains and gluten: wheat, oats, corn, buckwheat, millet, rice, barley, bulgur, popcorn, etc.
